Election Restriction

1. Applicant has included new SEQ ID NO: 125 in the elected claims and added further restrictable species to the claims as well. Therefor the invention now clearly constitutes multiple patentably distinct inventions that represent a burdensome search. See the new election of species below.
2. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: 241 A to G, 194 G to C, 191 G to A, 180 G to C, 178 G to A, 143 G to A, 92 G to A, 86 C to T. The species are independent or distinct because each represent structurally unique nucleic acid sequences that have varying and different functional relationships to schizophrenia.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, polymorphism generic.

3. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: PCR, heteroduplex analysis, ss conformational polymorphism analysis, denaturing hplc, ligase chain reaction, comparative genomic hybridization, southern blotting. The species are independent or distinct because each represents a distinct method from the other. Each requires different products, and obtains kinds of information to determine the existence of a polymorphism.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, detecting the presence of a polymorphism is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).
